North-South Match Won By Reb Unit

FORT MEADE, Md. (AP)—"Keep your powder dry!" was the cry Sunday as more than 100 Yankee and Rebel riflemen met in a driving rain.

The downpour didn't douse the fire of enthusiasm. Events went off as planned, complete with rebel yells when good shots were made.

This was the annual Potomac Regional North-South Skirmish, a preliminary to the national North-South Skirmish to be held next month at Fort Lee, Va.

When it was all over, the winner was Company A, 13th Confederate Infantry, of Alexandria, Va. The same unit has won almost every skirmish since it began in 1950.

The shooters, struggling manfully to protect their powder, marched to the firing line in good order today. Once there, however, many gave up any attempt at Civil War authenticity and sought the shelter of modern raincoats and ponchos.

Man Charged In Wounding Of Three Men

FEDERALSBURG, Md. (AP)—Leon James Sample, 33, Federalburg is being held in the Denton jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill three men wounded in a Saturday night shooting fracas.

The shooting followed an argument in a Federalburg tavern, according to Lt. C. C. Serman of the Maryland State Police.

Serman said Eugene Bennett, 35, was admitted to Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury with serious chest wounds. Two other men, Alec Cornish, 47, and Cecil Washington, 20, were less seriously wounded. They were hospitalized in Easton.

All four men are Negroes.

Board Gets Petitions To Employ Welsh

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has received two petitions from county residents requesting that William Welsh, by virtue of a Civil Service examination taken about October 25, 1955, from which he was appointed humane officer to be transferred to county employment in the same manner as other employees of the City Health Department.

The petitions signed by 116 persons pointed out Welsh was one of the few employees of the City Health Department doing work for the county who had taken the Civil Service test.

Youths Paddle To Safety

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—Two Pennsylvania Railroad bridge youths who went for a ride on the about one mile north of Edgewood, Md. in a 12-foot motorboat Saturday and were eight hours overdue paddled into shore with one oar early Sunday.

Coast Guard and State Police had been searching for Sidney A. Trine, 22, and Marlin Evans, 14, both of Towson, after their families reported them missing.

The pair said their boat became disabled after they left Bateman's Landing about noon Saturday. Both were tired but otherwise in good condition when they finally worked the boat ashore near the

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Arctic Flights

IF THE SOVIET Union had a real case, it would have fought the battle in the United Nations, win or lose, on the issue of American military flights toward Russian borders. The dropping of charges before the U.N. Security Council in the face of certain defeat indicates that, once more, the Russians were concerned not with truth but with propaganda. They know full well that any military organization worth its name must constantly operate training flights which, within limits, simulate the circumstances of defense and attack.

SURELY THE Russians do it themselves. No one would think much of their aerial defenses if they did not. To suggest that some trigger-happy general might one day choose to send a nuclear bomber flight all the way to its target is ridiculous. This is not French North Africa, where combat already flares and the lethal bomb load, bad as it is, consists simply of ordinary high explosives. No American officer can fail to understand the consequences that would flow from taking matters into his own hands. These flights of ours from Arctic bases are not a war threat but are in fact the very reverse—our insurance, such as we can muster, against a surprise nuclear assault from across the North Pole.

EVIDENTLY the sensible statesmen in this world understand that thoroughly. That is why Russia faced an overwhelming defeat in the U.N. had it decided to press its charges that we are endangering the peace. Let us hope that world reaction, as indicated by the probable 9 to 1 vote against Russia that the Kremlin managed to duck, will have some impact in Britain. Leftist Laborites there persist in seeing our patrol and training flights over the British Isles as a potential war menace. This is no more true in Britain than in the Arctic. Our Strategic Air Command is simply doing the job it is to do and should do.

Tricky And Dangerous

THIS MAN—call him Bill Jones—was doing a job he liked to do because of what it promised for the future: he was cleaning the parts of his outboard motor, getting ready for a fishing trip. But Bill Jones will have to skip that particular fishing trip. The reason is that Bill Jones chose to wash his outboard motor parts in gasoline. That would have been dangerous enough out in the backyard, but Bill compounded the danger by tackling the job in his basement. He forgot about the pilot light in the gas heater. Fumes from his basin of gasoline found their way unerringly to that flame. The next thing Bill knew, he was a human torch. Cleaning things in gasoline—not only motor parts, but neckties, gloves and other articles of clothing—is still all too popular despite the publicity that has been given to the hazards of this practice. The simple fact is that gasoline is tricky and dangerous, especially in an enclosed space. Bill Jones, lying there on his hospital bed, will have plenty of time to think that over.

Americans Only

THE AMERICAN hot dog has made the trip across the Atlantic successfully, but it's not getting such a warm reception from the European folk thronging the Brussels World's Fair. Reports have it that the dogs are selling well enough, but mostly to Americans. The latter, looking about in a strange land for signs of the familiar, see the red hot as a comforting reminder. All this has its bad side. Americans at the fair are said to be sticking too close to their own pavilion, talking with each other, eating established U.S. food offerings, Europeans, while fascinated with American displays in other fields, regard the hot dog with evident distaste. Probably there isn't much anybody can do about it. We're a quick-lunch, grab-a-sandwich nation. The Europeans like to savor their food at leisurely hour-and-a-half luncheons. Asking them to stand in line for hot dogs would be like asking us to line up for season tickets for rugby.

Lively Primary For Connecticut Demos?

HARTFORD, Conn. — Rich in confidence and candidates, Connecticut Democrats are building up either to an old-style donnybrook or a surprise solution in their party primary next June. The governorship and a United States Senate seat are both at stake in November.

Governor Abraham Ribicoff, a leading member of the impressive cadre of Governors developed in the recent Democratic resurgence, is unopposed for re-nomination.

His official position is that he prefers another four-year term in the statehouse. Some observers doubt he can be shaken, for they believe that his national goal is not the Senate but the United States Supreme Court.

But the Ribicoff-Bailey team is faced with two conditions, not a theory.

ONE IS THAT a bruising three-cornered fight is in progress for the Democratic nomination for Senator. The contenders are Chester Bowles, a former Governor and vastly successful former Ambassador to India; Bowles' former partner in a famous advertising agency who was once appointed by Bowles to the Senate, William Benton; and Thomas J. Dodd, a former U. S. Representative.

Confronted with this array, all with claims to party consideration, everybody now is officially neutral. But the witching hour when somebody has got to make a decision is drawing nigh.

THE SECOND condition the contenders face is that the party has still another promising politician on hand who, everybody agrees, would strengthen the ticket.

He is Mayor Richard C. Lee of New Haven whose last plurality was 23,000, the largest margin ever received by a mayoral candidate in Connecticut. Lee has taken his name out of consideration and is reported to have made certain commitments to Bowles. Still, he is there and politicians rarely resist drafts.

Some observers believe the end result will be a ticket of Ribicoff and Lee or a ticket of Lee and Ribicoff.

The determining factors will be many. They will include geographical, ethnic and religious considerations which are present to some degree in most states but very important in Connecticut with its many racial groups and more than 50 percent Catholic population.

THE UNOPPOSED Republican nominee for Senator, William Purtell, is Catholic. So is Mayor Lee. Unless the Mayor is drafted, the Democratic ticket will not have a Catholic at the top and the other Connecticut United States Senator is a Republican, Prescott S. Bush.

That Chester Bowles is the ablest of the present three candidates for Senator is widely conceded. But since he belongs unmistakably to the liberal wing of the Democratic party, there is some fear that he is open to attack as a radical. Dodd, minus this handicap, lives in Hartford County, as does Governor Ribicoff.

The Governor and his state chairman are in close accord. Perhaps only the election returns will show that they are as clever politicians as many people think they are.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—A nice-looking man with crew-cut hair and a firm jaw set American womanhood back 40 years the other day. I haven't heard a single yelp of protest. But keep listening, friends. I think you will hear some.

His name is Darrel Landrum, he is a decorator and he believes that the most pleasing thing in a room is clutter. That's right—clutter. He believes in it.

For 40 years women have been trying to rid their houses of clutter, have drilled it into husbands and children, "Don't put that on the table," they cry, "put it on the shelf or cupboard! Put it away."

They have skimmed their rooms down to essentials. Furniture, rug, lights, clocks, ash trays. Now comes Mr. Landrum who so believes in clutter that his own house is an exhibition case of it. But not just ordinary clutter. He indulges in managed clutter, controlled clutter. Clutter thought out and designed to please the eye and even the ear.

ONE LADY noted for her spartan tastes in decor took a look at Landrum's ideas and said they may be controlled clutter but to her they were the "messy look."

Nonetheless, Landrum likes a long, wide coffee table with such objects on it as a Japanese fan, a bowl of candies, some flung magazines, little pillboxes, paper cutters, a brass bell and a few other knick-knacks to give it a sort of strewn look. This, he thinks, makes the room look warm and agreeable, not so chilly as tidied-up emptiness.

WELL, OUT OUR way we tend to be Landrumites. A coffee table in our house can and usually does hold an old skate key, a Peruvian silver ash tray with a bent foot, a dog comb, a Mexican chicken family in clay, a rusted spur dug up in the back yard, yesterday's examination marks, a script for a TV show, two broken and chewed pencils, some empty match boxes, a sleeping Siamese cat and a request from the fuel oil company to sign the service contract they submitted last September 10th.

RECENTLY, after seven weeks of toil, I turned a new, sparkling room over to my girls, complete with a framed corkboard on which neatly to tack memos.

Senators Help; Cops Don't

WASHINGTON — What happened in the Shore Brothers Pontiac agency in Philadelphia was an auto dealer's nightmare come to life.

Bernard Polen, the manager, still shuddered. On November 8, 1956 he had his establishment handsomely decorated with artificial flowers and a dozen glittery 1957 Pontiacs for the unveiling before an expectant public the following day.

Out front was a picket line from the Teamsters Union; it just appeared suddenly, and Polen swore before the Senate labor racket committee he had not the faintest idea why. The unionists made no demands; they just started carrying signs.

POLEN TRIED to ignore the pickets. He polished those Pontiacs until they glistened brighter than an auto salesman's eye; then he locked up for the big day on the morrow. When he returned to work the following morning, eight of his gorgeous automobiles had been smeared with paint remover. The other four had their curved windshields smashed.

He tried to get some replacements from the warehouse of the Gallagher Brothers, but the brothers were worrying about the rumination of the two-tone paint jobs on the seven Pontiacs they had in stock.

NOT FAR AWAY in Germantown Robert Lee also had some new Pontiacs inside and a number of second-hand ones on his lot. He, too, had pickets out front and they were something special.

"They sent me a couple of body knows how close these receipts come to balancing costs. As a basis for comparison, the U.S. private film industry lists 15 major studios. They produce about 300 feature length pictures a year, at a total cost of around 300 million dollars. Distribution is through 23,000 theaters, including drive-ins.

Pictures are shown in the government chain of 20,000 movie theaters and 35,000 other halls where movies can be shown. No-phone call messages, agenda and the like.

As of now, it holds a jagged, ripped-out newspaper ad for color-tinted nylons, a scribbled memo reading: "Gidge says axle fell out and what will his father do when 8:10 is here?" If you can decipher that one I have some Indian messages I found near Roanoke on which to whet your talents. I don't even know who Gidge is.

A man gave us a slightly battered set of four wooden ducks decoys the other day and I think we'll find them nailed to the library wall any evening. This, too, should enchant Landrum.

ACTUALLY, most of the houses around New York and environs, as the saying goes because we don't have an English word as encompassing as environs, are pure, clean, strictly managed examples of the non-clutter, or Mother is Always Yelling, school of home discipline.

I've been in houses where there was a coffee table as big as an Olympic swimming pool and you had to reach across four feet of blank space to get to the one, forlorn little box of matches on it. Ash trays, too, seem to be miniaturized.

I know one New York lady of impeccable taste who believes that no ash tray is any good unless it is small enough to be hidden under a three-cent stamp. We have never been as good friends since, one Christmas, I gave her a gray enamel dishpan on which an artist friend had adroitly and merrily painted: "Put Your Ashes here."

I SUPPOSE it is a fact, in these days of diminishing domesticities, that if a woman tends to her own house, the less object the less labor. But American women in the last years have come near achieving a sort of monk's cell spartanship in home decor.

Landrum, therefore, may be a kind of domestic virtue, saving homes in which a man can't even smoke a cigarette comfortably without his wife hovering nearby with a chip of china to catch those filthy little gray specks as they flake off his cigarettes.

Men, I do think, will welcome Landrum as a blood brother, a fellow conspirator.

Of course, I doubt that Landrum has to dust all this clutter in his house.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—He was a typical guy from out of town, a fellow who wouldn't be noticed here.

He was small but well developed. His three ears were within hearing distance. His eyes—all four of them—though narrow and dark, had an air of utter simplicity.

The antennae that protruded from his forehead were borne with a boyish air, one tilted as if eager to hear from a world he never had heard from, one bent to feel the world he knew.

His eyes, though green and protruding seemed ordinary for a Monday in Manhattan. Those who noticed he had four arms during the subway crush tended to admire them and overlooked his other head.

FORTUNATELY, his first reports back from his stranded flying saucer were recorded.

They follow: "The place called the earth is warm and habitable. At the hour of landing it was populated.

"The inhabitants range from large aggressive two-legged creatures who call themselves men to small aggressive creatures whom men call insects.

"The insects have six legs, and a vocabulary of their own, which this expedition is not momentarily able to understand.

"Earth seems to be involved in a time of struggle.

"They all have their rituals, the men and the insects, and they all seem to have their goals.

"The goal between the insects, and the men seems to be the same: extermination. Whether they have two or six legs, they are bent on destroying each other.

"THERE APPEARS no area of agreement. Some men fight other men, some insects fight other insects, all men fight all insects, some insects fight all men.

"It is a disparate place. The contending people argue whether one man wins against another. They all assume that their war against each other is more important than their war against the insects.

"The insects attack all men, also many of their own kind, and they utilize their mandibles for food rather than discussion. They would rather digest than discourse.

"The people seem to feel that if they can just whip each other, they can then handle the insects. The insects rarely fight back. They fasten and feed.

"To summarize: earth is roughly spherical, turns on an axis, slants, which determines its weather, is available for exploration.

"Political assessment: positive. It could be made a nice rest resort by a higher power."

WASHINGTON — Walter C. Louchheim Jr., is a rich financier, but he is not a Republican because his wife won't stand for it. I have cudgelled my mind for an explanation of the lady's capriciousness, but the only one I can think of is that she is Katie Louchheim, women's chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Mr. Louchheim lives at home. Nevertheless he is disposed to help President Eisenhower with his recession problems.

The husband of "Mrs. Democrat" heard, around and about, that some people were complaining of high prices. As it came to him, they felt that with all this talk of a business fall-out and unemployment a reduction in prices was in order.

Mr. Louchheim was given to understand that this feeling was widespread. The other day, after Mrs. Louchheim had departed at dawn to break English muffins with a batch of visiting Democratic ladies as part of her "Breakfast with Katie" program, her lord, but not quite master, set forth to investigate the situation for himself.

AFTER MORE forework, one of his toes began to protest, so—to quote him scrupulously—"I went to my corn doctor's." The latter, who identifies himself somewhat more impressively, had barely gotten the patient's shoe off than he began to complain of high prices.

"How," the podiatrist asked Katie's husband, "can they expect to balance the economy if the cost of everything remains so high? People should make a contribution to the national welfare by lowering their prices."

"Well, now, I am glad to hear you say that," said Mr. Louchheim, bracing his toe. "You now charge $5 a visit. You used to charge $4—and before that $3. I suppose you are going to go back to $3."

The podiatrist recoiled as if he had been jabbed with his own lance.

"Oh, I couldn't do that," he cried. "My office expenses have gone away up—the cost of supplies has skyrocketed. My fees aren't high enough as it is."

DISCOURAGED, but still fighting, Mr. Louchheim went to the brokerage offices of Merrill Lynch, Fenner, and Whatever the Rest of It is. One of the several dozen partners, a gentleman noted for his Republican piety, declared that the crying need of the country in this period of national stress is a general reduction in prices.

"I am glad to hear you say the price-reduction should be general," said Mr. Louchheim. "When are you going to reduce your commission rates?"

The broker blew up worse than the 1929 stock market. When he recovered a semblance of calm, he explained that it would be brokerage suicide to reduce commission rates an infinitesimal fraction.

Every individual he talked to the rest of the frustrating day—including the taxi driver who finally delivered him home to Katie—assured Mr. Louchheim that the national recovery demanded a cutting of all prices, except him.

As he nursed his pedal digit, Katie's husband came to the conclusion that every red-blooded American is in complete unanimity as to the cure for our economic ills—reduction in prices for the things they buy, not the things they sell.

LaVale Fire Report Given For Quarter

Fire Chief James Loar in his report for the first quarter ending March 31 lists seven alarms answered by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company.

The alarms resulted from three flue fires, two brush fires, one vehicle fire and one overheated furnace. Damage was slight.

A total of 78 man-hours were used to fight the fires and an average of 16 men answered each alarm.

April's record is already higher than the first quarter total, Chief Loar said.

The company has answered 12 alarms, 11 of them from brush fires, since April 1, and 130 man-hours were spent in quenching the fires.

Firemen urged residents of the LaVale area to be particularly careful when burning brush or grass during the next few weeks, and requested that people have a supply of water on hand when fires are started.

Three fire prevention movies will be shown today at 8 p. m. in the fire hall. The public is welcome and there is no admission.

Health, Fire Program Set For Section

Elimination of health and fire hazards in the Bowman's Addition area will be discussed at a meeting today at 7 p. m. at the community fire hall.

The program is being sponsored by the Allegany County Health Department and Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company.

Speakers will include Dr. Tom van Strien, health officer, and J. B. Dowling, sanitarian, for the Health Department, and Garnett L. Minnick, president, and Leo C. Emerick, chief for the fire company.

Dowling said efforts will be made to eliminate some of the conditions which are developing in the area.

He said a recent survey showed about 62 trash piles, dumps or junk yards existing in the area without permits. The conditions, he added, depreciate property values in the neighborhood and create fire or health hazards.

Adult Actors Ruin 'Hansel' Credibility

Juveniles Could Have
Starred; Pat Munsel
Asks Maternity Leave

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK (INS) — Patricia Munsel, who had a firm ABC-TV pact through July, asked to get out of same June 15 for October maternity reasons and the sponsor said fine.

Patti Page would like to tie up the whole Munsel TV creative, corp for her show when she shifts to ABC.

Wide World's case-history of Hollywood stardom yesterday started plucky but took on a fascinating dimension finally when it got right down to the Oscar-winning case of Joanne Woodward.

They showed an old Four Star Playhouse episode starring Dick Powell and Miss Woodward, "Interlude," concerning which we remembered flipping our type-writer into the air over the young lady's beautiful TV performance.

Bob Crosby-Helen O'Connell are front-running for the Perry Como summer duo job.

It's a mystery why the child-size title roles in "Hansel & Gretel" had to be played by grown-up Barbara Cook and 38-year-old character actor-comedian Red Buttons, for the roles were not so demanding as to demand adult acting stature.

It took away the essential element of credibility in the color spec last evening, among whose other lustrous casting was pairing Rise Stevens with Rudy Vallee and then having Hans Conreid flounce around as a witch.

The fairy tale — and its TV premises — seemed too crowded for characterization of sustained kid-size amusement with so many featured players and so little time (53 minutes).

Hardly anyone came off well except Rise Stevens and Alec Wilder's earnestly professional music.

Betty Hutton retired from her retirement again, and did her best TV show in seasons.

Myoshi Umeki of Sayonara fame looked and sang prettily. "Dial M for Murder" Friday was a fine event, returning to TV where it started out in England before it became a stage and screen hit; give single acting honors to John Williams, its all-media police inspector; and Rosemary Harris in the role originated by Gusti Huber on stage, Grace Kelly on screen.

Mike Wallace's "new" series starting last night was just more TV Q & A.

Red Skelton's summer-sub show will be a flock of old Loretta Young TV films (episodes she didn't star in, only hosted) with a hopeful new look in the person of Anita Louise as their rerun hostess.

Maruon O'Hara may star in "Kiss Me Kate" on TV.

If the big Timex jazz show (starring Satchmo) gets a big rating Wednesday, a regular jazz series will be set. So watch, please.

Fairy Tale Described As Delightful

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Hansel and Gretel," as seen on NBC-TV Sunday night, was a delightful and disarming fantasy that could not be misunderstood by anyone since it did not attempt to carry any important message.

As Stubby Kaye said at the beginning of this beguiling musical production, "This is a story for children and everybody who used to be children. Everybody else go away."

But it was worthwhile for even an old witch to stick around for the show, written and directed by Yasha Frank. Red Buttons, always a greater performer, displayed again his gift for pantomime, and Rise Stevens recalled to anyone long absent from opera the power and conviction of her voice. Rudy Vallee, once only a singer, proved himself an actor, too. Hans Conreid again demonstrated that he can do just about everything.

To one viewer, Miss Stevens singing "Evening Prayer" and Kaye and Vallee teaming to do "Men Rule the World" were two of the delightful songs of the show.

The drama, by Frederick Knott, is an intricately plotted work. But, in its outstanding television presentation, directed and produced by George Schaefer, it did not sacrifice characterization for plot. Throughout its 90 minutes, suspense never flagged.

The body's physical reactions to anger and fear are almost identical, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Margin Of Error Wide Indeed

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Police said there were two things wrong when Arthur Sunkel turned in a driveway here. First, he was 40 miles from his own garage in Warsaw, Ohio. Second, he didn't stop.

They said Sunkel's car went into the garage attached to the Hugh McLarnan home and knocked the McLarnan car through the back of the garage and off a 6-foot drop. Sunkel was fined $50 in Municipal Court for reckless driving.

The body's physical reactions to anger and fear are almost identical, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Kidnaper Will Be Tried On Murder Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russell Wayne Carpenter, 22, convicted in Alexandria Friday of kidnaping and car theft, will be tried in the District of Columbia for first degree murder within a month, U.S. Atty. Oliver Gasch said Saturday night.

Gasch said Carpenter's prosecution on the murder charge will be conducted by Asst. U. S. Atty. Frederick G. Smithson, Smithson participated in the successful prosecution of Carpenter before a federal district court in the Alexandria trial.

The murder charge against Carpenter, for whom two indictments have been returned, stems from a triple slaying in Washington last Dec. 27.

Bright Note Pointed Out By McKeldin

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. McKeldin says he is concerned about those who have lost their jobs in the current recession but there is at least one bright note.

"It is heartening to note," the governor said, "that there is no mad rush of withdrawal from savings accounts—and that there has been no wild speculation in stocks to undermine the foundations of our economic strength."

These reassuring circumstances are largely the result of past government precautions based on lessons learned.

The governor, in the sixth in a series of radio broadcasts Sunday, criticized the Maryland General Assembly for cutting almost five million dollars from the capital improvements program he proposed.

But, said McKeldin, necessary state construction projects are still adding to the employment of skilled and unskilled labor. Between now and September, he said, the state will advertise for bids on about 15 million dollars worth of construction projects.

As to big projects now under way, the governor mentioned state office buildings in Annapolis and Baltimore, and a new wing for Montebello State Hospital.

Two Persons Die On Roads

By The Associated Press

Maryland's highway death toll stood at 159 today after two weekend accidents on the Eastern Shore.

The total was two more than were killed in the first 117 days of 1957.

Jodie E. Watts, 74, of RFD 1, Trappe, was killed Sunday on U.S. 50, three miles south of Eastern when State Police said he failed to give the right of way to another car as he drove from a gasoline station onto the highway.

His car, struck by a vehicle driven by Elinor R. Weir, 38, of Cambridge, was turned around by the impact and Watts was thrown out.

Mrs. Estelle Thompson, 42, of Dover, Del., was killed Saturday when the car driven by her husband, Raymond W. Thompson, 33, an Airman stationed at McGuire Air Force Base, Trenton, N. J., skidded off a Kent County road and struck a tree near Millington.

Two Trains Discontinued

CHARLESTON (AP) — Two trains running between Williamson and Kenova will be discontinued if the Public Service Commission gives its approval.

At a hearing today, the Norfolk and Western Railway sought authority to consolidate passenger train No. 15 with 25 and No. 16 with 26.

The railroad said that business is not sufficient to warrant the continuance of all four runs.

No. 15 is westbound, leaving Williamson at 5:20 p.m., while No. 16 goes east from Kenova, from which it departs at 11:55 a.m.

Four Persons Drown In Choppy River Water

COLES POINT, Va. (AP) — The took with them the boat Buckner choppy waters of the Potomac River held the key today to the fate of a frail 15-foot motorboat. Buckners used the boat to take which apparently sank near here, friends for spins in the Potomac early Saturday, bringing death to four persons.

The body of one of those aboard the craft, Mrs. Harriet Smith-Buckner, 19, of Washington, was found in the river about 8 a.m. Saturday, some six hours after the Co. dock, where he and Buckner boat had left Piney Point en route to Washington.

Buckner was an oil barge captain for the petroleum firm, and, weekend search, and presumed Russell said, had made many drowned, were Mrs. Buckner's trips up and down the river. He husband, Arthur "Eddie" Buck, and his wife had been married ner, 34, and a Boys, Md., couple, only since Feb. 13. Mrs. Buckner James "Bud" Lawrence and his was a bookkeeper in a Washington restaurant.

Bits of debris from the boat, and Coast Guard helicopters, an am-three of its four life preservers, phibious plane and one private were recovered. Mrs. Buckner boat searched a six-mile area between Piney Point and Coles Point. The other two washed ashore near the bodies of Buckner and the Ragged Point, down river from Lawrence's all day Saturday. A Coast Guard boat resumed the hunt Sunday morning but soon was forced to shore by rough weather.

"I don't think there is any chance at all that anyone survived the accident," said Westmoreland County Sheriff Charles English.

He said, too, he did not believe more of the boat would be found.

The sheriff said the heavy engine in the motorboat doubtless would carry the craft to the bottom of the river in the event it collided with a floating object.

The Buckners and the Lawrences had driven to Piney Point last Friday with R. E. Russell of Washington, a mutual friend. They

She won first prize of $25 when she spelled "vicinity" yesterday afternoon before more than 300 spelling enthusiasts, old and young, in Carroll Hall.

Elizabeth McBee, eighth-grade student at St. Peter's School, Westernport, won second place and a $15 prize and Carol Meade, of St. Patrick's School, Mt. Savage, third place and a $10 prize.

They were among the 30 contestants appearing in the contest for seventh and eighth grade students of parochial schools within the jurisdiction of the assembly. Carl L. Firlie and John F. O'Rourke were co-chairmen and John J. Coyle the master of ceremonies.

Miss Agnes Carroll, who served as moderator, commended the students for their ability. The spelling bee went 37 rounds and ended before a list of 500 words, furnished by competing schools, was exhausted.

The students "went down" on such words as keim, comparable, nuclear, knack, permanent, percolator, colonel, massacre, triplicate, tactics, cease, stratosphere, suite, liquidate and synthesize.

All of the winning spellers took part in the first spelling bee sponsored by the Fourth Degree last year.

Name Weston New Manager Of VA Office

Samuel J. Weston has been named head of the Cumberland office of the Veterans Administration, succeeding Frank T. Trawinski, who has been transferred to the VA office at Perry Point Hospital.

Weston started with the Administration in November 1943. He has served at Sioux Falls, S. D.; Roanoke, Va.; Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick and Fort Howard. He has been in charge of offices at Hagerstown and Frederick.

Weston is married and has one daughter age 15. His family resides at Williamsport and he plans to move there later. He is a veteran of World War II and was transferred here from the VA office at Fort Howard.

Weston stated that beginning today, the local office will inaugurate new service hours. The office, located on the third floor of the Cumberland Post Office Building, will open at 8:30 a. m. instead of 9 a. m. and will remain open until 5 p. m. instead of the previous closing hour of 4:30 p. m. A local survey shows that few claimants visit the office before 8:30 a. m. and occasionally visitors have been reported between 4:30 and 5 p. m. Weston believes the office can render better service to area veterans and their dependents if the hours are changed.

Legion Adopts Resolutions On VA Loans

Area Posts Also Against Hoover, Bradley Proposals

The Mountain District, American Legion, yesterday passed two resolutions, one pertaining to direct loans by the VA and the other the Hoover and Bradley commissions.

Both resolutions were proposed by Fort Cumberland Post 13 at the session held in Loaconing. The first is in the form of a letter to the Veterans Administration urging that the VA again consider the qualification of Allegany County as an area where veterans may obtain direct home loan financing.

The letter points out that the same request was made several months ago, but at that time after a review of the area, representatives of the VA loan division did not qualify Cumberland and Allegany County for direct loan applications.

"However, in view of the present national recession and the continued disinclination on the part of local financial institutions to engage in veteran loan home financing, we are again requesting that your office conduct a survey" to determine eligibility of the area, the letter said.

"We feel if this qualification is forthcoming that it will do much to help the economy of this area, as well as enable the veterans of this area to take full advantage of the two-year extension which has been given the Veterans Housing Program."

The other resolution concerns the Hoover Commission and Bradley Commission reports. The Legionnaires said, would disqualify numerous veterans from medical treatment and hospitalization due them; would result in the reduction of pensions from Social Security benefits and lower the existing limits

Teacher Said To Have Hit Young Student

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — A Laurel High School teacher has been relieved of his duties for allegedly gashing a pupil's head with a board during an argument.

L. B. Howland, principal of the school said the teacher, Vernon C. Hill of Takoma Park, is scheduled to confer Monday with Asst. School Supt. George H. Robinson. A warrant charging Hill with assault, which occurred Friday, has been sworn by Mrs. Betty Turner, mother of the student, Mitchell Murphy, 15.

Howland said a statement from the youth, substantially corroborated by Hill, brought out that the boy spoke disrespectfully to the teacher. Hill struck the boy on the leg and the boy hit Hill with a board.

There are no reports of injuries on the recipients of veterans' pensions.

The resolution calls upon the Maryland Department of American Legion to have its legislative committee interrogate Senate and Congressional candidates about their attitudes on the Hoover and Bradley reports.

District Legionnaires said the request to the VA will be followed by similar requests from other veterans' organizations, and the resolution calling for the quiz of political candidates will be presented to the state convention in Baltimore next July.

Canal Street Order Given First Reading

City Council To Consider Possible Amendment To Law

The Mayor and Council will send to its second reading next week an ordinance for the closing of a portion of Canal Street and meantime consider a possible amendment which would give a mercantile business abutting on the street the right of ingress and egress.

The action followed a plea by James B. Reinhardt on behalf of his father, Joseph H. Reinhardt, owner of the four-story property at the corner of Baltimore and Canal Streets.

It also followed a parliamentary procedure discussion which was resolved when the second reading of the ordinance was reconsidered and reverted to the first reading for the possible amendment action.

Under the ordinance, Canal Street would be closed from a point 60 feet south of Baltimore Street to the Western Maryland Railway passenger station. The railway had requested the closing with its proposal to lease its property on South Mechanic Street for a 100-car commercial parking lot. The railway, according to the city, said the parking lot is contingent upon closing of the portion of Canal Street.

Reinhardt said the action would make Canal Street a dead end and deprive the property owned by his father of loading and unloading privileges and that in order to turn vehicles around, permission from the Western Maryland would be necessary.

He said he would like an agreement included in the ordinance for ingress and egress but that in talks with the Western Maryland its officials had sympathized but claimed they could not give an easement which would interrupt their operations.

Asks For Clause

Finance Commissioner John J. Long suggested that in fairness to the Reinhardt interests an agreement clause be included in the ordinance.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz who made the motions for approval of the ordinance as it stood, said he would be agreeable to passing an ordinance contingent upon an agreement with Reinhardt. He said there should be no delay, the city needs the parking lot and he felt the Western Maryland would be fair.

Long agreed that the lot would be a windfall for the city. However, Long added that council should be sure of what action is being taken and added:

"We are setting laws here and we should not take anything for granted."

In the discussion over withdrawing of Buchholz's motion to send the ordinance to its second reading, Hunter B. Helfrich, 727 Sylvan Avenue, who had asked about the cost of the closing and been told the Western Maryland would bear the expense, asked why Buchholz couldn't withdraw his motion.

Buchholz Replies

Buchholz replied that "maybe he doesn't want to."

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said he wanted the action taken "the right way" and added he could not see why the railway would not go along with Reinhardt on the egress-ingress agreement.

When the motion that the action sending the ordinance to its third reading be reconsidered was voted on, Buchholz opposed it. But the 3-1 vote automatically reverted the ordinance to reconsideration of its second reading which will enable an amendment next Monday if council considers it necessary.

The ordinance provides for appointment of commissioners, Glenn Watson, James Perrin and Howard Spiker, realtors, to assess damages.

James S. Getty, attorney for the South Cumberland Business Men's Association, appeared to voice that group's opposition to the closing in view of plans for the Cumberland Thruway and Industrial Boulevard.

Getty said the association does not oppose the parking lot but said it had not been made clear whether the parking lot was contingent upon the closing of Canal Street. City Attorney Thomas B. Finan told him it was.

Getty said that in view of the Youth Goes On Trial In Father Death

Jury Selected, Testimony Starts In Elk Garden Case

The trial of Joseph E. Paugh, 17-year-old Elk Garden youth who is charged with fatally stabbing his father last March 31 during a family argument at their home, opened this morning in Mineral County Circuit Court before a jury of seven women and five men.

Mineral County Prosecutor Donald Holt reviewed the details in the case by questioning Paugh and two residents of Elk Garden who were in the home at the time of the incident. They were Ralph Evans, 16, who was visiting with the young Paugh boy, and Thomas Hickey.

The questioning disclosed that Clarence Paugh, 58, and his wife had been quarreling that day, and that their son was in an adjoining room when the elder Paugh struck his wife.

The son was said to have obtained a hunting knife and run into the room where his mother had picked up a poker to defend herself, and plunged the knife in his father's back.

The defense attorneys are H. G. and Howard Shores and John Hamilton. Members of the jury are Kenneth Matlick, Helen Rice, Edith Stagg, Hilda Worley, Madeline Caldwell, Mary Amtower, Mattie Micky, Marvin Cannon, Cora Stickley, Arthur Haught, Robert Kilrey and Ralph Marker.

Candidates' Round-Table Meeting Set

First Full Debate Scheduled Tonight In St. Michael's

By The Associated Press

The last round-table meeting of all candidates and the first full-dress television debate between two of them are set for this week in Maryland's Democratic primary campaign for the U.S. Senate.

The seven candidates, who faced each other for the first time about a month ago at a League of Women Voters luncheon, are scheduled to make a similar appearance Monday night at a meeting sponsored by the Talbot County Democratic committee.

With the May 20 primary only 22 days off, observers expect the 2 p. m. (EDT) session at the Miles River Yacht Club in St. Michaels to produce some fireworks. Most of those coveting the nomination have been building up an arsenal of oratory while making their hand-shaking rounds in the counties these last two weeks.

Capping the week's campaigning, Clarence D. Long and William F. Fidler Jr. will hook up in a television debate Friday on a 15-minute Baltimore (WBAL-TV) program.

Long, Johns Hopkins University economics professor, and Fidler, Washington lawyer, will defend their respective stands on the farm issue. Long has repeatedly called for the elimination of farm price supports. Fidler favors them.

Both are among those who accepted invitations to appear also at tonight's meeting in St. Michaels, along with Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore, James Bruce and George P. Mahoney.

Campaigning on the Eastern Shore today, Mahoney also spoke up on the farm issue. "It's time we turned the Department of Agriculture back to the farmers," he said in a statement released from his Baltimore headquarters before his departure for a campaign swing through Kent County.

He said the department's budget has risen 750 per cent since the Eisenhower Administration took office.

"But the farmer has received less and less for his crops and the housewife has paid more and more to keep her market basket filled," he said.

D'Alessandro, who toured three Eastern Shore counties last week, said Sunday night he was pleased by his reception. He wound up the swing with a visit to Kent County after stopping earlier at Somerset and Worcester.

County Office Seekers To Be Questioned

All candidates for public office in the county primary election have been invited to answer a series of questions to be posed them tonight by the Allegheny County Teachers Association.

Each candidate has been invited to be present at the Board of Education office, Washington Street, today between 7 p. m. and 10 p. m.

L. Hayes Chambers, ACTA president, said each candidate will be interviewed individually by members of the association.

Each will receive the same questions on his stand on a number of civic and teacher issues.

These will be tabulated and distributed to Allegheny County teachers before primary election time, the president said.

The action is being taken as a result of a directive of the association at its last meeting in London.

Police Hunt Motel Bandit In District

Clerk Robbed Of $100 At Gunpoint In Bedford Place

A bandit who held up a clerk of a motel at the Bedford entrance to the Pennsylvania Turnpike early yesterday morning at gunpoint was still at large at noon today.

The bandit robbed Glenn R. Spriggs, 22, clerk at the Midway Motel, of approximately $100 and fled south on U.S. Route 220 towards Cumberland. The hold-up took place about 2:30 a. m.

State Police at Bedford said Spriggs described the lone bandit as about 18 or 19 years of age, five feet, 10 inches tall and weighing about 165 pounds. The bandit was unmasked and wore a light tan raincoat, brown hat, white shirt and blue-green trousers. The escape car was either a 1955 or 1956 Ford sedan of a dark color.

Spriggs said he was on duty alone when the youth walked into the motel office. The bandit pulled an automatic pistol from the pocket of his raincoat and ordered Spriggs to hand over the money in the cash register.

Spriggs told police the robber scooped up a handful of bills, mostly $10 and $20 denominations, and fled. The clerk added that the gunman apparently was alone.

State Police threw up a roadblock near the state line but did not turn up anyone answering the bandit's description.

An all-points alarm has been broadcast by police, alerting authorities throughout the eastern states.

Condemnation Suit Scheduled In Court

A land condemnation suit will be tried in Allegheny County Circuit Court tomorrow before a jury.

The case was brought by the State Roads Commission against Crate R. Carr and his wife in connection with property on U.S. Route 220 in the Rawlins area. The land is needed for the highway improvement in that area.

Author Ken Hechler Seeks Congress Post

HUNTINGTON — Author Ken Hechler announced he would be accompanied by young volunteer campaign workers when he files tomorrow at the Secretary of State's office in Charleston as a candidate for a Democratic nomination to Congress.

The 43-year-old former professor of political science at Marshall College said he would file in person at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and give an address to his student supporters outside the office afterwards.

Hechler seeks his party's nomination for the 4th District House of Representatives seat. The only other candidate to have filed so far is Dr. Will E. Neal, the Republican incumbent.

Hechler, an executive assistant in both the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, has achieved national prominence with his book, "The Bridge at Remagen," which describes the first crossing of the Rhine by American troops during World War II. He has received offers from both a major motion picture and television studio to adapt his work for production in these media.

Hechler said today that he was determined to wage a clean campaign for the congressional seat. He said that in his speech to his student followers, mostly from Marshall and Morris Harvey colleges, he would state his intention to disown any who might engage in unfair attacks on his opponents.

Yanks, Braves Still Looking For 'Contenders'

Clubs Cited As Threats Find Selves Still Mired

By FRED DE LUCA
INS Sports Writer

Herman Ball is an ideal exponent of football's T-formation. In 1941, when he was in his sixth year as coach at Allegheny, Herman introduced the "T" with its flankers and men-in-motion, to area high schools.

Ever since then Herman himself has been "the man in motion." After winding up seven years at Alto with a brilliant record of 54 wins, 13 defeats and a tie, including three undefeated seasons, Ball headed for the University of Maryland as an assistant coach to "Doc" Spears.

He also served under Paul (Bear) Bryant and Clark Shaughnessy at College Park and in 1945 caught on with the Washington Redskins as a scout. He has been in the National Football League ever since.

Most of the 13 years in the NFL have been spent as scout and chief talent-hunter. These duties have taken him all over the country, and almost always he travels by air. About the only time he "had his feet on the ground" were the two-and-a-half years he was Washington's head coach.

Herman is starting his third year as assistant coach of the Baltimore Colts, following the year he spent at Pittsburgh after leaving the Washington tepee.

Ball's long and frequent trips in search of pro grid material have made Arthur Godfrey look like a second-stringer when it comes to being a talent scout.

Herman just recently returned from a three-week tour of the Southwest, during which time he visited no less than 20 college practice fields. Last week he was off again, this time to the Midwest.

Herman started off Monday of last week at the University of Pittsburgh. The next day he was at Ohio State, then on to Illinois, Indiana and Purdue.

Today he is at Northwestern, tomorrow he'll be at Notre Dame, Wednesday at Michigan and the next three days will find him at Michigan State where a clinic is scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

On these trips, Ball flies by night and watches football by day. It's a tight schedule, to be sure, but Herman loves it.

Sports Keg Residue

There is a possibility that the sale of Charles Town Race Track to B. G. Byars of Tyler, Texas, may be called off. According to Bob Schriener of The Martinsburg Journal, Byars became disenchanted after learning of the extensive litigation in which the estate of the late Albert J. Boyle is involved. . . . This includes legal action taken by Boyle's first wife and separate suits filed by Boyle's children, on the part of the first wife. . . . A definite decision on whether Byars will purchase the money-making race plant is expected during the early part of this week. . . . However, the odds are still in favor of a meet starting the middle of June. . . . Largest scoreboard ever built is the new one at Detroit's Briggs Stadium which cost $250,000, weighs 11 tons and uses 72 miles of wiring. . . . It can be changed over from baseball to football in 30 minutes, with the captions for balls, strikes, outs and at bats becoming "down," "to go" (yards), "quarter" and "ball on (yard line)." . . . Board is 127 feet long and measures 75 feet from its top of clock which surmounts it. . . . The Athletic Institute observes that educational legislation introduced in Congress recently would cost nearly $145 million in 1959 and more than $200 million in the next three years. . . . But it sadly notes that nothing in the proposed sums is earmarked for physical fitness or physical education. . . . The People-to-People Sports Committee hopes enough U. S. sports fans will be interested in seeing a visiting Pakistani cricket team to defray costs of approximately $15,000 for a two-week tour beginning tomorrow. . . . The cricketers will play matches in Philadelphia, New York and Boston. . . . Prince Aly Khan, now Pakistani ambassador to the U. N., will throw out the first ball at Columbia University's Baker Field in New York May 4. . . . It costs about $6,500 a year to maintain a horse in thoroughbred racing. . . . The bill for food and care comes to about $12 a day and other items quickly increase the total. . . . And it is estimated that 90 per cent of the 20,000 or more horses in training earn enough to enable their owners to break even. . . . The colorful Herman Hickman, who died Friday night, could recite poetry by the hour and also write it. . . . Perhaps his best remembered line:

The mixed-up 1958 baseball season enters its third week today with defending champs Milwaukee and New York looking like the old man with a lamp, searching for an honest-to-goodness pennant contender.

If the Braves and Yankees want to find their supposed flag rivals, they'll have to look down—way down—in the standings.

After two weeks of play, the world champion Braves are tied for second in the National League with the Chicago Cubs, a half game back of the San Francisco Giants and 1½ games ahead of Pittsburgh.

The four teams that were expected to battle the Braves—Cincinnati, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and St. Louis—all are in the second division with the last-place Cardinals trailing the Giants by 4½ games.

Yanks Lead By One
The Yanks are in much the same boat. Casey Stengel's troupe leads the American League by one game, but Kansas City and Washington are in second and third, respectively.

Boston and Chicago's White Sox, each five games out, are mired in the second division's last two berths. The best that any top AL contender is doing is Detroit, tied with Cleveland for fourth place.

The situation will stay the same through today, since there is no action to permit teams to do their traveling for the East and West road trips which begin tomorrow.

Rain yesterday held activity to five games—two in the AL and three in the NL.

In the older league, the Cubs, powered by Dale Long, edged the Giants, 5 to 4, to climb into a second-place tie with the Braves, who dropped a 6-to-2 decision to Philadelphia and the five-hit hurling of Jack Sanford. Johnny Podres won his third game as he pitched Los Angeles to a 10-to-3 win over the Cardinals. Pittsburgh was rained out of a doubleheader at Cincinnati.

Cubs Pull Triple Play
In the American League, the Red Sox, after losing five in row to Washington, beat the Senators, 7 to 5. Detroit belted Cleveland, 9 to 5, in the first half of a twin bill. The second game was washed out, as was Kansas City at Chicago and a Yankee doubleheader at Baltimore.

The Cubs also pulled off the first triple play of the season to crush a Giant first-inning rally that already had produced one run. With Willie Kirkland on second and Willie Mays on first, Hank Sauer lined right to Cub pitcher Dick Drott, who threw to second baseman Tony Taylor to retire Kirkland. Taylor's throw to first baseman Long completed the triple killing.

Long, who had gone hitless 21 straight times, belted a two-run homer in the second. Sauer clubbed his sixth homer—top in the majors—in the fourth to knot the count. The Giants went ahead in the seventh but the Cubs scored twice in the eighth and Long doubled in a run in the ninth that offset Orlando Cepeda's last-gasp homer. Marv Grissom lost and Don Elston won.

Sanford Wins Second
Sanford won his second game in three decisions, although touched for a homer by Harry Hanebrink. Lew Burdette lost after giving up a two-run homer to Richie Ashburn, his first since April, 1956.

The Dodgers belted Sam Jones freely, including a two-run homer by Dick Gray in the first inning. Ken Boyer homered off Podres. A crowd of 44,941 showed up at the Coliseum to lift the Dodgers' home attendance for nine games to 377,601.

Boston's Frank Malzone tagged Russ Kemmerer for a homer in the second and the Red Sox added three runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth. But it wasn't enough support for Dave Sisler. The Senators erupted for five runs in the seventh and Murray Wall had to save Sisler's second win. Sisler is the only Boston pitcher to win twice this season.

Detroit belted six Cleveland pitchers for 14 hits, with ex-Giant Gail Harris leading the way with a double and two singles. Billy Hoelt won, although he gave up a homer to Dick Brown. Don Ferrarese lost in relief.

Braves Sign Star Of Legion Champs

MILWAUKEE — Gerald Drew, 19, a star pitcher and infielder on Cincinnati's 1957 national champion junior American Legion baseball team, has been signed to a major league contract, the Milwaukee Braves said Saturday.

Jay Hebert Scores Hit In Lafayette

LAFAYETTE, La. — Jay Hebert will get a warm welcome from officials of the Lafayette Open golf tournament any time he wants to try his luck again in the $15,000 event.

Hebert, a Lafayette native and the hometown favorite of the gallery, made the first edition of the tournament a whopping success. Sunday as he carded his fourth straight sub par round to win the $2,000 first prize money. Most of the 4,000 fans who followed the former Louisiana State ace in the tournament, saw no early clearing.

Hebert, now playing out of Sanford, Fla., trailed after each of the first three rounds, but fired a four-under-par 67 in Sunday's finals for a 72-hole total of 273, five strokes better than his nearest challengers, and 11 strokes under par.

His earlier rounds over the 6,300-yard Oakbourne Country Club course were 69, 69 and 68.

Going into the final round one stroke behind Leo Biagetti of St. Paul, Minn., and Bill Collins of Grossingers, N. Y., Hebert shot his best round. He had three birdies and a bogie on the front nine and two birdies on the back side.

Biagetti, playing in the same threesome with Hebert, took a two over par 73 and finished in a tie for second at 278. In the deadlock with him was Bob Sosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., who had a final 69.

Collins had a final round 75 and dropped to a 280 and a tie for sixth.

Tied for fourth at 279 were Gay Brewer Jr. of Paradise, Fla., and Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex.

Trainer Ivan Parke was a jockey in the 1925 Preakness and finished fourth on Chantey.

Jockey Sought To Replace Hartack In Derby Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Derby will be run for the 78th time Saturday. That's for sure. But everything else about the $125,000-added turf classic for 3-year-olds is conjecture. Even the weatherman clouded the picture today as trainer Jimmy Jones sought a jockey to replace injured Bill Hartack on favored Tim Tam, the hardboots diagnosed.

Tim Tam, the hardboots diagnosed, injured Bill Hartack on favored Tim Tam, the hardboots diagnosed, injured Bill Hartack on favored Tim Tam, the hardboots diagnosed.

Rain turned Churchill Downs' strip into mud and retarded training schedules. The weatherman said no early clearing.

Jones has been deluged with offers to ride Tim Tam, hope of the Calumet Farm, since Hartack broke his leg in a fall from a horse here Saturday. Dave Erb, winner in 1956 with Needles, is expected to get the call.

Hartack retained a faint hope. "The only chance is one in a hundred," said the little Johnstown, Pa., native from his hospital bed.

The X-rays have been sent to Dr. Alexander Kaye in New York, and he will make a decision. Jimmy has told me he is going to leave it open for a few days.

Hartack, the nation's leading rider the last three years and winner last year astride Iron Lieke, suffered a broken fibula, the small bone between the ankle and knee, when his mount reared in the starting gate and tossed him over backward.

As for Silky Sullivan, the big West Coast chestnut with the come-from-far-behind style.

Sports Car Races Asked By Pittsburgh

But Cumberland To Retain '59 Show, Says Carscaden

The Sports Car Club of America is offering Pennsylvania's Board of Allegheny County Commissioners to move the national sports car races from Cumberland to Pittsburgh next year in connection with the Steel City's bi-centennial.

Stanley R. March, race chairman of the Cumberland meet, has informed the Allegheny County commissioners that the Pittsburgh race would draw at least 100,000 spectators to either North or South Park. He pointed out that last year's Cumberland races drew 50,000 spectators and that a similar event at Watkins Glen, N. Y., has drawn as many as 137,000.

Races To Stay Here
Bill Carscaden, local attorney, who is general chairman of the Queen City sports car spectacle, said today that a 1959 Pittsburgh race doesn't mean Cumberland will be without one next year.

"If Pittsburgh decides to stage these races, we're hoping they could be held in August which means ours would go as scheduled in May," Carscaden declared.

In the event this arrangement cannot be worked out, we will probably ask the Washington Region or the Pennsylvania Central Region of the SCCA to furnish technical direction for our show.

Cumberland's 1958 meet is scheduled for May 16-17-18 at Municipal Airport, marking the seventh straight year Pittsburgh's Steel Cities Region has directed the local event.

March says the Steel Cities Region is asking permission to lay out a three to four-mile course over secondary roads in one of Allegheny County's parks.

Sponsored By Jaycees
"The permission we seek entails no expenditure of money on the part of the county, but we would hope that we might expect help in crowd control through police assistance and with the loan of a snow fence."

Aleo And LaSalle Nines To Collide Tomorrow

Only four teams, two each from the Allegany County and Potomac Valley Conference baseball races, still have yet to lose this season.

Fort Hill, defending ACL and city champion, and Keyser, current pacesetter in the PVC, lead the list with 5-0 marks. Allegany has won three and Martinsburg shows two wins for as many starts.

Aleo, LaSalle Clash

The Campers will be putting their undefeated string up against one of their toughest foes tomorrow when facing LaSalle in the second intra-city contest at Penn Avenue Field. The Explorers, who have lost only once in four tries, were beaten by the Sentinels, 8-4, in the first of the six-game series.

The Hilltoppers, who have a 4-0 mark to pace the County race, also have a 3-1 win over the Alumni for the spring. The South Enders will be host to Bruce of Westernport tomorrow.

In the other league frays, Beall of Frostburg will be at Mt. Savage and Valley is host to Flintstone at Barton.

Both the Campers and Explorers have been impressive this season. Coach Chet Payne's Blue and White has beaten Bruce, 6-2; Flintstone, 9-1, and Mt. Savage, 3-2, while having played a 5-5 tie against Beall in a game called because of rain at Penn Avenue after seven innings.

The Campers have the strike-out leader in Bill Hook who has whiffed 17 batsmen while walking only five in posting a 2-0 record. Hook got his second win Friday in setting down Mt. Savage while whiffing ten and being touched for only five hits.

Jack Cranor posted the other Aleo victory when he flipped a four-hitter against Bruce.

Blake Also 2-0

The Explorers also have a 2-0 hurler in Bill Blake with his decisions being against Valley, 8-2, and Bruce, 6-2, when he gave up only 11 hits in going the distance. Blake has fanned 14 and given up only six free tickets.

John Hinds tamed Flintstone, 4-2, last Friday while the only loss on the record was absorbed by Ed Green against the Sentinels.

Tomorrow's game was to have been LaSalle's home contest and the Pen-Mar Baseball League played at Celanese Field but it was switched to Penn Avenue at 4 o'clock. The Explorers have scheduled, also transferred their game Friday against Mt. Savage from debut by playing at Mt. Savage.

Celanese to the Indians' diamond, will meet the Old Germans Saturday at Fort Hill, losing one of its top hurlers, "Ducky" Barreille at Flintstone. Grants-Paige broke his kneecap in a tilt at Zihlman and Hyndman scrub game and will be sidelined at Wellersburg. They will be for the rest of the season, goes made up at a later date.

This Sunday's tilts show Zihlman at Mt. Savage, Flintstone at starts with decisions over Mt. Savage, 8-3, and Valley, 13-4.

Lemon Plans To Play Catch With His Son

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Lemon quietly packed his bags Saturday and said he was going back to California and play catch with his 10-year-old son Jeffrey.

The Cleveland Indians' right-hander is staying out of a disagreement which has his boss, Frank Lane, Tribe general manager, shouting loud comments at the commissioner of baseball, Ford Frick.

Lane Blasts Ruling "A stupid ruling" was the way Lane described the commissioner's edict that Lemon, now on the disabled list, could not work out with the Tribe's San Diego farm club.

Lemon's right elbow has not responded too well from an operation to remove bone chips. He was placed on the disabled list last Wednesday, and the Indians hoped to send him to San Diego where he might be able to get his arm back in shape.

But, ruled Commissioner Frick, he must either stay at home or be reinstated to the active list.

Lemon, who lives in Long Beach, Calif., said he will leave for the West Coast Sunday. The highest paid pitcher on the Cleveland staff commented:

"In California I guess I'll have to play catch with my son Jeff."

Frick, informed of Lane's comments on his ruling, said he wasn't interested in anything the Cleveland general manager had to say.

"My ruling has been made and that's what its going to be," Frick said.

"Either a player is disabled or he's not, there's no such thing as being half disabled," Frick declared. "If Lemon puts on a uniform out there he is going to be placed on the active list of the Cleveland club."

Lane commented: "I'll tell Lemon that if he sees a couple of kids playing catch and the ball gets away from one of them, Bob doesn't dare throw it back or he'll be violating the commissioner's orders."

Player Of Day

Sanford Has Eyes Set On Soph Honors

By International News Service Jack Sanford, an honor student in the school of pitching, intends to keep up his high standards and capture sophomore laurels in 1958.

The fire-balling right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies was the National League's Rookie of the Year in 1957, and what he's shown so far this season gives strong indication he will walk off with second-year honors.

The 28-year-old hurler registered his second victory in three decisions yesterday when Philadelphia beat Milwaukee, 6 to 2. He tamed the Braves with five hits and struck out seven members of the world champions.

In 1957, Sanford led the league with 188 strikeouts, piled up while he was winning 19 games and losing eight. The boy from Wellesley, Mass., who lives now in Prospectville, Pa., had an earned-run-average of 3.08, one of the best in the league.

The six-foot, 175-pounder developed slowly. He has been in the Phillies chain since he got out of high school in 1948. He spent most of 1955 and 1956 in the Army where he pitched five no-hitters.

Ironically, Sanford credits Milwaukee coach Whitlow Wyatt with making him into a successful pitcher. Sanford says that when Wyatt coached the Phils the veteran taught him how to control his curve ball.

RAIN WASHES OUT PEN-MAR OPENERS

Yesterday's opening games in the Pen-Mar Baseball League played at Celanese Field but it was switched to Penn Avenue at 4 o'clock. The Explorers have scheduled, also transferred their game Friday against Mt. Savage from debut by playing at Mt. Savage.

Celanese to the Indians' diamond, will meet the Old Germans Saturday at Fort Hill, losing one of its top hurlers, "Ducky" Barreille at Flintstone. This Sunday's tilts show Zihlman at Mt. Savage, Flintstone at starts with decisions over Mt. Savage, 8-3, and Valley, 13-4.

Score of the Cleveland Indians feels good and juggles the ball as he settles down in his role of the 'majors' strikeout king.

Pirates Blank Warriors, 13-0

The Paw Paw Pirates, on the pitching efforts of their ace hurler, Gilbert Corbett, remained right in the thick of the Potomac Valley Conference race with a 13-0 win over Wardsville Friday night on the Pirate's diamond.

Corbett, who has been reached for just four hits in the 27 innings he has pitched, was equally stingy with Wardsville batsmen, allowing just two hits, both of which were singles.

Corbett struck out seven men and walked five in weaving his third victory of the season. The Pirate's Kevin Edmondson led the offensive assault with three hits in five trips to the plate. Corbett himself, chipped in with a pair of hits including a double.

Paw Paw's record is now 3-1 which places the Pirates fifth station in the PVC. Wardsville, after snapping Moorefield's 32-game win streak early in the campaign, has lost four in a row.

Heishman did the firing for Wardsville and doled out 13 hits while striking out one and walking two. The summary:

Czechs, West Germany, Spain Cup Winners

LONDON (AP)—Czechoslovakia, West Germany and Spain qualified for the second round of European Zone Davis Cup tennis competition Saturday by marking up their third straight victories in first round matches.

Each Davis Cup series consists of five matches—four singles and one doubles. Saturday's winners had taken the opening singles Friday. The remaining singles will be played out as a mere formality.

Czechoslovakia knocked out Yugoslavia at Zagreb; West Germany eliminated Holland at Munich and Spain stopped Egypt at Cairo. Their respective second round opponents will be Denmark, Belgium and Sweden. Three of the stronger nations in European tennis.

'Red Carpet' Rolls Out For Yank Cagers

TIFLIS, Russia (AP)—Russians in this Georgian capital gave American basketball players a lavish reception today, but they appeared disappointed over one thing.

Wilt Chamberlain didn't make the trip.

Chamberlain is the towering Negro star of the University of Kansas. Georgians at the airport crowded around the U.S. players and asked questions about Wilt the Still.

The Russian players had surprising knowledge of the Kansas star, as well as other college standouts.

American men's and women's team arrived from Moscow, where the men won two and the women lost two games to Russian foes.

Some 300 persons were at the airport, including Georgian, Estonian and Azerbaijan players. Many of them bore bouquets of flowers which were presented to the smiling Yanks.

The men's team, composed largely of the Peoria, Ill., Cats, arrived first in a big Russian plane, Vladimir Gamsontadze, deputy chairman of the republic's physical culture and sports committee, said, "long live friendship between our two countries."

Forty-five minutes later the plane bearing the Nashville Business College team and other U.S. women players arrived. They got a similar welcome.

Birds Convinced Robinson In Major Leagues To Stay

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles decided today that Ronnie Hansen isn't going to be the new shortstop they're looking for this year.

But while they sent the 20-year-old Hansen down to Knoxville for more experience, the Orioles were convinced his young sidekick, Brooks Robinson, is going to make it at third base.

The New York Yankees were more than inclined to agree after Robinson put on a great fielding show against them last Friday and Saturday.

Lauded By Yogi

"That kid's got a great future," predicted Yankee Catcher Yogi Berra when the 21-year-old Robinson threw him out at home after a circus catch.

Manager Paul Richards of Baltimore expressed thanks that Yankee scouts weren't more impressed by Robinson's speed when he was playing high school baseball in Little Rock, Ark.

"They can afford to be choosy about speed," related Richards, "and wouldn't offer Robinson a major league contract. We did and got him."

Richards maintains that Robinson isn't as slow as he appears, particularly insofar as fast reflexes are concerned.

Fielding No Question

"Also, some persons thought he couldn't throw well," continued Richards, "but you'll notice he throws only as hard as he has to. When a fast one is required, he makes it."

Robinson's ability to field in the majors had not been much of a question. It was his hitting. He seems to have answered that with 13 hits, including a double, triple and two homers, in 32 times up to this season.

The same hitting question had hovered over Hansen. He couldn't deliver a hit in 11 tries against big league pitching.

Unlike Robinson, however, Hansen has put in only one season of professional baseball. That was at Stockton, Calif., in 1956. He missed all of last season after being operated on for a spinal disc.

Play Chicago Tomorrow

Robinson spent most of the past three seasons playing in the minor leagues while getting the taste of the American League with the Orioles in 71 games.

The Orioles will return to action tomorrow night against Chicago in Memorial Stadium after a two-day layoff. Sunday's doubleheader with the New York Yankees was postponed by rain and today is an open date.

Jack Harshman will be the starting Oriole pitcher tomorrow. He has a 2-0 record.

Willy Miranda, who has been out because of injuries and sickness, will be ready to make his first appearance of the season at shortstop in place of Hansen.

Foster Castleman also will be available.

Ruling By Frick May Affect Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles is wondering how Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's recent ruling on Bob Lemon will affect his squad.

Frick ruled that Cleveland pitcher Lemon could not work out with the Indians' San Diego farm club while he is on the disabled list.

Frick said Lemon would have to either stay at home or be restored to the active list.

Richards has a similar case in pitcher Hal (Skinny) Brown who was hit by a ball on the thumb of his pitching hand last week. Richards says there's nothing wrong with Brown's legs and he is wondering whether Brown will be allowed to run around the ball park to keep in shape, in view of the Frick-Lemon ruling.

Richards assumes each case will be decided on its own merits and he is withholding further comment until a ruling may be asked from Brown.

Stan Leonard Surprises By $10,000 Win

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The golfing parade heads for Texas and the National Invitational at Fort Worth today with Stan Leonard of Canada, surprise winner of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions leading the procession.

Victor in but one major open in the United States, the Greensboro last year, Leonard, a youngish 43-year-old professional from Vancouver, B. C., tucked away $10,000 for his efforts here.

Dramatic Duel

Leonard, winner of six Canadian PGA championships, came out on top by one stroke in a dramatic seasaw duel with the pace-setting Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif.

His rounds of the straight 69's capped by Sunday's brilliant 68 gave Leonard a 72-hole score of 275. This 13-under-par total broke the tournament record of 278 set by Art Wall Jr., in 1954.

Casper's rounds of 65-70-71-70-276 over the par-72 Desert Inn Country Club course went to pot on one disastrous hole.

This was the 403-yard 17th with its treacherous water hazard.

He drove into the pond, hit into it again and wound up with a double bogey six.

Stranahan Third

He and Leonard were all even going into the 17th. Leonard went one over par on the last hole but the damage to Casper was done. He settled for $5,000 second money.

Casper for the fourth day led the way by one stroke, and for the last round it was over Leonard and Tommy Bolt.

Bolt got an eagle and a birdie on the first two holes, and then bolted to a 74 and a tie for fourth.

Frank Stranahan moved into the third spot with a 71 for 280.

Gene Littler, who had won this event for three straight years, finished with a 68, 281 and a tie with Bolt.

Ken Venturi, the pre-tournament favorite, came in at 283, one shot behind Dutch Harrison and Arnold Palmer, and tied with George Baer and Gardner Dickinson.

Thirteen Qualify In Tournament

Thirteen members, with Ed Mattingly's 85 being low, posted qualifying scores for the spring golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend.

Other scores were L. W. Brown, 86; Dr. William Ryan 88; Maurice Cohn 88; John Wilson 88; John Mosner 91; Joe Wolfe 91; B. A. Mason 92; Dr. F. B. Whitworth 94; Frank McCagh 95; Mike Eror 95; Bal Garner 99 and Ed George 104.

John Mosner won the kickers handicap tourney at the club with a net score of 91-15-76, pacing a field of 18 players.

Those winning prizes on par-three holes were No. 6—William Claus, No. 10—Dr. Howard B. Wood, No. 12—Dave Klein, No. 15—Royce Hodges.

Chicks Destroyed In Brooder Blaze

A fire which apparently started in an overheated brooder destroyed 200 three-week-old chicks in a small chicken house on the farm of Harry H. Delbrook, about 2½ miles west of Mt. Savage.

The blaze was discovered about 9:30 last night when the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbrook smelled smoke. Her mother looked out the window to see the chicken house ablaze.

Mt. Savage Volunteer Fire Company was called to the fire but were unable to save the young chicks or the building. The nearby residence of the Delbrooks, and a poultry house which contained 200 grown chickens, were not damaged.

Delbrook estimated his loss at more than $500.

District School Band Program Held At Keyser

KEYSER — Keyser High School band was host to seven bands of the 3-A high school district of West Virginia in Keyser Saturday. The bands went through a period before adjudicators from the 3-A district to place the bands in their proper niche in general ability, playing music, marching in parade formation and general all round capability.

Each band had its turn in this examination during the day which included rating, due to population of the schools and other points. The work was incomplete in a full test as several bands failed to come here for a full examination. The bands appearing here Saturday in addition to Keyser High School, were from Capon Bridge, Harpers Ferry, Musselman, Romney, Martinsburg High and Martinsburg Junior High and Charles Town. In the street parade, the streets were lined solidly by local citizens turning out to see and hear the musicians.

The adjudication of bands of this district is preliminary to the full Regional school band festival to be conducted in Clarksburg on May 1, 2 and 3. Keyser High band is known as a Class B band based on the enrollment.

There were seven or eight high schools not represented here Saturday.

The local high school home room mothers, cafeteria manager and others were on hand to help in entertainment, lunches, etc., for the visiting band members during their stay in Keyser. Nunzio Barbers, the local group's leader, was host for the visiting band directors, players and others accompanying the bands. Faculty members John Shelton and Joseph Stanislawczyk took care of the parking of school buses and other vehicles.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, April 29, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—While influences are not entirely favorable, this is a good period for clever management and for giving things the benefit of unhurried consideration. Your occupation, other activities can gain.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—What this day does for you and your interests depends largely upon how you allocate duties and how you handle them. Fine results indicated if you stress your intelligence, talents, good intent.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—A challenging period. You should be mentally keen, have many new ideas of worth. But do be careful about details.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Your innate kindness and helpfulness, especially to those who have less than you, will be greatly received. Don't neglect important matters.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Heed advice to Gemini. Day has a certain charm and leads which can prove beneficial if you use them well. Don't be too hasty, however, lest you make strategic errors.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Be sharp, alert, ready to move quickly when you should. This is all-important to better results now. But don't overdo or become impatient. Calmness, serenity are helpmates always.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Advice to Taurus can be helpful to you now. Often mediocre periods are turned into triumphs.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Your need now? Patience for one thing, and intelligent, calm action for another. Don't fear new, unfamiliar tasks. Go ahead with them.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Advice to Scorpio could help you able folks now. Watch financial details and agreements but don't hunt your family or yourself in essential needs and a few "extras." Be genial, hopeful.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—A tricky period at times, very encouraging and pleasant at other moments. Don't be discouraged. Be cheerful and keep trying. You will achieve.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—Now have an opportunity to cash in on your many natural talents, but you will have to do it pronto.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—A big day if you think big and act big. Drop pessimism and you will and in front with surprising results. Even new, unexpected advantages.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly intelligent, skilled in many things, ambitious, willing to work hard, and well disposed toward new ideas and methods. You have artistic talents and general capability, can improve upon others' ideas and inventions till they seem almost your own. Knowledge comes easy to you and you have a generous easy way of imparting it to others.

Opening lead—♠ J

"I won the trick in dummy and played the ace of diamonds in hopes of dropping a singleton nine. When that failed I kept a cheerful countenance as possible and ran off dummy's trumps."

"East had been clairvoyant he might have realized the importance of his nine of hearts, and I would have been a dead duck but East discarded hearts early and often."

"This put West in an unusual squeeze. I wound up by cashing dummy's other high club and retained three hearts and the king of spades. West had to blank his ace of spades in order to hold three hearts. Now I took dummy's queen of hearts and threw West in with the ace of spades. He had to lead to me and the slam made."

The hand is most interesting. To start with, North can't make the slam or even five odd since a spade will be opened against him. A heart lead would have beaten Mr. Keel but no one can blame West for his club opening. As for East's heart discards, I am inclined to be a trifle more severe than Mr. Keel. East might have seen that his heart nine could be important. Certainly his low spades weren't.

Richmond Diocese Bishop Succumbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Most Rev. Peter L. Ireton, whose long career as a bishop of the Roman Catholic Church stemmed from a childhood desire to be a priest, died here last night at the age of 75.

The bishop of the Diocese of Richmond succumbed to the second grave illness within the space of one year at Georgetown University Hospital, where he was taken April 18 after suffering a fall at Marymount Junior College in Arlington.

There were no immediate survivors. Funeral services are incomplete.

Bishop Ireton was the spiritual leader of about 165,000 Roman Catholics in a diocese that includes most of Virginia and eight counties of West Virginia.

Last summer he underwent major abdominal surgery in Newport News. He had recovered from that surgery and had resumed his duties.

From the time he became bishop coadjutor in 1935, the Catholic population of the diocese more than tripled. Bishop Ireton, who celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood in 1956, established more than 40 new parishes during his general administration. The number of priests in the diocese grew to 264. Bishop Ireton built 24 new parochial schools, three hospitals, a maternity home and a college.

He was named to succeed Bishop Andrew J. Brennan as the top prelate in the diocese on the latter's retirement in 1945.

Bishop Ireton was a native of Baltimore and one of five children. At the age of 12, he entered St. Charles' Minor Seminary in Catonsville, Md. After graduation he entered Mt. St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore. He was ordained a priest in 1905 and his first assignment was in St. Gregory's Parish, Baltimore.

Second Murder Trial In Shooting Resumes

WHEELING (AP) — The second trial for the murder of James Mitcham, 43, of Barton, Ohio, who was wounded in the hail of bullets that killed Mitcham and his daughter, resumed today.

Cronk was convicted once for the killing of James Mitcham, 43. The conviction and death sentence that followed were set aside subsequently by Ohio County Circuit Court and a new trial granted.

Cronk was acquitted when tried for the other death resulting from the shooting spree, that of his 6-year-old sister-in-law, Donna Mitcham.

The outbreak of violence came after a long series of quarrels between Cronk and his wife. He testified that he thought her family had come to his apartment to try to take away his two children.

The case against Cronk is being presented by Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien and two of his assistants. O'Brien said he would call between 25 and 30 witnesses.

Cronk is scheduled to reappear in Intermediate Court May 5 to answer a charge of felonious assault against Alex Talorchyk, 35.

"If I pay by check, how will I get receipts?"

To answer in a word: Automatically. Whenever we pay a check drawn by one of our checking depositors on his or her account with us, we punch holes in the check to show that it has been paid. With the payee's endorsement and this cancellation, the check itself becomes a receipt. We return all cancelled checks to the drawer with our periodic statements of account. This "automatic receipt" feature is just one of the advantages of paying bills by bank check. Enjoy them all! We invite you to open your account here!
